Chairman's Message

It is my pleasure on behalf of the Weyburn Collegiate Board of Trustees to extend congratulations and best wishes to the graduating class of 1963. This is for many, we hope, the first step in your quest for an education that is of increasing importance to meet the challenges of this technical world in which you will soon be an important part. From classes such as this must come our leaders of tomorrow, just as our city is celebrating its 50th anniversary many of the leading citizens received their education in these classrooms.

I would also like to commend the students and staff on celebrating with the city in producing this special anniversary edition of "Weycollin". The tremendous amount of research and work involved in preparing this special edition certainly attests to the imagination and capabilities of our educated youth of today.

Principal's Message

One night in ancient times, three horsemen were riding across the desert. As they came to a dry bed of a river, out of the darkness a voice called, "Halt!"

They obeyed. The voice then told them to dismount; pick up a handful of pebbles, put the pebbles in their pocket and remount.

Then the voice said, "You have done as I commanded." To-morrow at sun up you will be both glad and sorry." Mystified, the horsemen rode on.

When the sun rose, they reached into their pockets and found that a miracle had happened. The pebbles had been transformed into diamonds, rubies and other precious stones. They remembered their warning. They were both glad and sorry - glad they had taken some, and sorry they hadn't taken more.

When you first entered Weyburn Collegiate you were like the three horsemen - faced with a situation you didn't fully understand. You were asked to pick up the pebbles of knowledge. Some you did and others you passed over. Now as you graduate and leave your school, I hope you will look back and feel that you gathered all the gems you could and will go away happy and not sad, feeling you should have gathered more.

May I congratulate the Weycollin staff on their splendid book. Truly their effort is the culmination of all the yearbooks that W. C. I. has published and a great tribute to those who have made it possible for us at Weyburn Collegiate to celebrate our fiftieth anniversary.

To those who remain to further their education in our school, it is my hope that you will acquire the knowledge, desire and self discipline to meet the ever growing challenge of life so that in the end your contribution to our way of life will be even greater than the contribution that has been made by our many graduates.

Richard C. Smith,
Principal.

Message From Senior Pin And Senior Stick

We have been honored to serve as your Senior Leaders of the Students' Representative Council for the academic year 1962-63.

We would like to thank our Principal, Mr. Smith, our Staff Advisor, Mr. Jankoski, and all the other staff members, who by freely giving of their time and talents in extracurricular activity, have made W. C. I. a better, more pleasant place to attend high school. However, we would be very remiss if we did not also thank you many students of W. C. I. who showed a keen school spirit which helped to make successful the numerous activities of the past year.

We wish our fellow Graduates of 1963 only those finest things which Life may have to offer. We earnestly hope that all of us may take up tasks, through which we will in some way, great or small, help to better this world in which we live.

To you who will return to W. C. I. in the fall, we will say only that we expect you will ever strive to improve our school--to make it one you are proud to call your own!

- Martin Christenson, Senior Stick

Editorial

The close of another year is drawing nigh - a year filled with fun, hard work, and fond memories. It is our purpose with this book to recapture those pleasant moments and record them in the fifteenth volume of the "Weycollin". We sincerely hope that this book, in particular, on our fiftieth year will be a lasting treasure and reminder of your high school life at W.C.I.

Of course, our very best wishes are extended to the graduates on our anniversary year. As they go forth to higher levels of learning or to various positions in this modern world, our kindest hopes for success go with them. To the undergraduates, a word may also be said: Throughout the past fifty years a lofty tradition and high standard has been set by the students who have attended the Collegiate. It is up to you to uphold these things during your future high school years.

In this book entitled "Golden Memories" we hope that we have been able to reproduce something for everyone - Students, teachers, and alumni. Graduates from forty-nine years have passed through the doors of W.C.I.; the walls still echo the sound of their footsteps and laughter. On our fiftieth year our special thoughts go out to these alumni, who, during their years at W.C.I., have molded a personality, a tradition for our school.

My sincere thanks go out to all those who have assisted in the production of this yearbook - department editors, staff advisors, and, in particular, my assistant editor, Jane Sather. Special thank-you's are extended to the advertisers whose support has made the production of this book possible. It has been a real honor to serve as your editor and I am proud to have had a part in the production of this special edition of the "Weycollin".

Bonnie Ennos,
Editor.

FIRST PRIZE:

TO KICK! OR NOT TO KICK!

Have you
Ever
Faced the question
Walking on a
Sunny,
Pebbled, and Peaceful
Path?

Your Peace is Disrupted.

On the other hand,
One may well stub one's toe;
On the other hand,
One may find a mossy rock.

Even so -
Weighing the facts -
It seems wise
Not to kick.

Linda Ghan - 10a

SECOND PRIZE:

ODE TO W. C. I.

Strolling in school the other day
Among the boys, I heard one say,
"What a team we'll have next year!"
I hope it's true, but I won't be here.
I won't be walking in this old hall,
When school convenes this coming fall.
Just four short years as a student here,
Then a graduate of her fiftieth year.
In a way I'm glad school's almost done,
But I'm going to miss both the work and fun.
Still in years to come as I backward gaze.
What a joy to recall Collegiate days.

Derell Rodine - 12a

THIRD PRIZE:

ODE TO A SPRING MEADOW

Oh to be in the meadow yonder;
To shout, to sing, and to idly wander;
To hear the frogs and the honking geese,
Sweet vernal sounds that seldom cease;
To catch the glimer of silver rain,
The budding trees in the winding lane;
The winged hum of a thousand bees,
Curtsying crocus, the soft spring breeze;
The busy mouse in the perfumed grass -
On God's green earth naught can surpass.

Lucille Aitken - 11a

HONORABLE MENTION:

PRAIRIE WINTER

A sky of blazing brilliant blue;
Landscape of purest white;
Against the wind, trees stout and true,
Project against the light.

Shadows cutting across the snow,
Stretching with feline grace;
The orange warmth of the sunset's glow
Leave only a violet trace.

The heavens seem cut in a starry swath,
Pierced through with brilliant spars,
Of Nordic light; while with frozen wrath
The night shakes a million stars.

"GRATITUDE - AN EXPERIMENT IN HAPPINESS"

Of all the common courtesies, gratitude seems to be the least over-worked. We forget that a simple "thank you" which falls so easily from the lips, may have a far-reaching effect in terms of personal happiness. Too often we leave unsaid things closest to our hearts because of a fear of embarrassment, thus letting those nearest and dearest to us live and die, unaware of our appreciation of their living-kindness and sacrifice.

The tragedy of an opportunity lost is not always apparent, but its effect is as far-reaching as gratitude itself. Who can measure the hurt of a grandmother whose beneficence is taken for granted, the anguish of parents whose sacrifices for their children have been scorned?

Mindful of this, we should never neglect an opportunity to become learned in the art of expressing gratitude. While artificiality may dim the lustre of an eloquent oration, sincerity will shine through even the clumsiest expression. Real feeling, therefore, often can be best shown through deed rather than word.

The "attitude of gratitude" should be foremost in our minds at all times. "Counting your blessings" may have become a cliche, but the depth of its wisdom cannot be overestimated. Those who live with thanksgiving ever in their hearts hold the key to real peace of mind. For who could ever fear the future who has a full appreciation of the wonder of this, our world and God's creation.

SECOND PRIZE:

A SOLUTION TO THE NEGRO PROBLEM?

As the auctioneer's gavel hit the table, it brought to a close a history-making incident. The year was 1619, the place, Virginia; the incident, the first negro slave auction ever to be held in an English Colony.

These slaves, like those to follow, came from the west coast of Africa, called the Gold Coast. I'm not too sure whether gold was ever found, but the negroes there certainly made up what was missing in gold. Transported in ships of unbelievable squalor and filth, the Negro, if he survived the Atlantic crossing, was sold to the highest and sometimes, if not always, to the cruellest bidder. From here on he did as he was told. He tried to keep a tight mouth, a stiff upper lip, and to pick cotton as fast as possible.

In comparing the Negro of today with the Negro of yesterday, it seems that his means of earning a living has changed more or less. No longer in the South is the work done for nothing. Working conditions have improved, economic assistance has been extended and housing, to a degree, have improved. But as a whole, the Negro in the South today is kept in his place although a few have managed to get out from under the oppressive thumb.

Those few who have managed to slip out have created a problem. What is to be done with the American Negro? This problem is now plaguing both the North and the South. As far as the North is concerned, the problem is a fairly simple one, but the South, still smarting from the Civil War, refuses to see it as clearly as the North. Thus, after almost three centuries, the Negro in America is still being fought over. The opponents of the Negro go all out for his hide, while his supporters assail his aggressors and even, by the use of arms, defend his freedom.

Maybe one answer to the situation lies in sending the Negro back to Africa. It would seem that the Negro is not wanted in America or in Canada.

An article in the October 20th edition of Maclean's Magazine tells of the plight of Negroes living in a large town called Africville, a century old Negro ghetto with third rate citizens, as one inhabitant described it. This article proves the undesirability of the Negro in our part of the world. Ironically, the North, which is crying out against the racial policies of the South, is the biggest culprit in the exclusion of Negroes from white areas of residence. Some of the biggest ghettos are found in such cities as New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia.

Let us send the Negro back to Africa! This does not mean another mass transplantation of Negroes, similar to that of three centuries ago. This time it will be entirely voluntary, leaving the Negro the choice of staying here or going back home. If a proposition like this were suggested to the whites in the South, and to all Negroes, the South might find it less difficult to comply with the demand of de-segregation.

To equip the Negro with the necessary skills that would make him an asset and a leader in Africa would have more appeal than the possibility of having to educate these Negroes under the bayonets of Federal troops and then to put up with them for the rest of eternity.

There is a crying need in Africa for foreign technical aid and general help in every aspect of life. The Peace Corps is a partial help, but the seeming lack of Negroes within it is an amazing fact. Money used in forming an all-black corps with government aid at the same time, plus help in education of American Negroes, with the purpose of sending them to Africa would be more intelligent. Africa has never been developed as was India, China, or Europe. Africa's time has come.

Not out of Christian love and charity, but for our own self-preservation and the continuation of this system, let us educate the Negro and give him this option, option of remaining or leaving.

It will not be easy for us, but it was not easy for the Negroes three centuries ago.

A STORY BY SHARON MC FADDEN - 9d

THEY SEEK THEIR MEAT FROM GOD

Years ago, a young man and his son came from their Eastern home to escape the busy hustle and bustle of city life. His wife had been killed in a car accident, during the winter months the year before. Completely bored with city life, he decided he would like to become a rancher in the foothills of Alberta. Their name was Newfield; Jack, the widower, and Jerry, his son.

They found a little place nestled in among the hills where they started to build up a herd of fine hereford cattle. They were eighteen miles from town with no neighbours for miles around.

One day, a trapper came to the district and built himself a little shack about a mile away from the Newfield ranch. He too, had a son about Jerry's age. Until this time Jerry had been very lonely, but now he played with his new found friend, Tom, nearly every day.

Unfortunately, Tom's father was a drunkard and had an uncontrollable temper. Sometimes he would go into town on a spree, spending foolishly what little money he did get from trapping, leaving Tom in their cabin all night by himself. Jerry's father would come over, and finding him all alone, would take him to their place.

One day, Jack Newfield had to go to town and, as they didn't own a horse, he had to get up very early, walk to town, buy supplies, and carry them home on his back. If he were lucky, he would make the round trip before nightfall.

When his son got up he went over to Tom's place to see if his father was there but was mainly interested in playing with Tom. Jerry searched all over, but couldn't find them anywhere. Finally, he came to the conclusion that his father must have got up early to fix the north fence he had been talking about at the supper table the evening before, but where Tom had disappeared was still puzzling him. Jerry loafed around the shack all day hoping someone would soon come back. He had had nothing to eat all day. The darkness was approaching, with the gnawing hunger, and, as Jerry had never had to go home in the dark by himself before, the thoughts of it terrified him.

His father had taken longer than he had anticipated because of the heavy load he was carrying. When he was passing by the trapper's shack which was about two hundred yards off the trail, he heard the shrill scream of a boy. Jack was so tired and worried about his son being home alone that he didn't want to go over to bring Tom home. He was about to trudge the last mile home when upon the black hill against the fading sunset he saw two silhouettes creeping along with stomachs to the ground. Jack knew they must be the two cougars that had been prowling around his ranch the past few weeks. He lay down on the cold, damp earth so he could get a better view of them and shot. The leader leaped into the air with a blood curdling scream and fell, limp, to the ground. The other leaped over his mate and tore off toward the shack. Jack could hear the boy screaming and bounded after the mad cougar. He shot and missed. Fired again and again. Just before the vicious animal reached the door he let out a howl of pain as he dropped with a loud plump to the ground, wriggling in the pool of his own blood. Jack dashed into the hut. To his surprise and horror he found his own son curled up in a corner shaking with fright. Jack grabbed him up, hugged him, and carried him home. Later they found the trapper had gone for good. Jerry would no longer have his little friend.

A few days later, Jack noticed vultures hovering about a spot in the pasture where he kept his young calves. Walking over there he found one dead calf upon the ground with the tracks of the cougar he had shot on that terrifying night three days ago. Jack, being very observant, knew they were the same ones because one of them had a toe nail missing on his left front foot where he had probably got it caught in a trap during the early part of his life. A few yards further, Jack saw a trail that looked as if a smaller calf had been dragged away. He followed it and found it led to a dark dreary cave. As he was about to turn away he heard the faint meow of a kitten. Turning around he went into the cave to investigate and before his feet one little cougar was attempting to stand on wobbly legs. Around him lay the dead bodies of his brothers and sisters. They had starved, to death when only twenty feet in front of the door was the calf stuck between two rocks.

Jack Newfield picked up the soft, black, whimpering ball of fur to take him home. Jerry nursed him back to health and began training him. Soon, becoming a very good companion, the cougar followed Jerry wherever he went. To Jack he was the constant reminder of the two parent cougars he had killed to save his own boy's life, when they were trying to find food for their young.

POETRY FROM THE WEYCOLLIN'S PAST

THOUGHTS AT SUNSET

Lift your eyes unto the heavens,
The sun
Is sinking in the west
And all this grand and glorious sunset
In fleeting moments soon shall pass.
And night
Shall settle down upon us
Blotting out this beauteous scene.
Then the dawn once more shall fill us
With a rapture and a dream.
A dream of life, of love and laughter,
Sorrows, joys we all must share.
A chance
To make our life worth living
Is waiting for us if we care.

THE SURGEON

The sweat stood out upon his brow,
His clenched hand gently trembled.
The gasty palour of his skin....
The tint of death resembled.

The knife was now within his grasp,
He lowered it gently to the skin;
He cut one long and bloody gash,
Revealing all that was within.

Determined still, he carried out
The instructions as directed.
At last 'twas done, the job complete,
His earthworm lay dissected.

Lillian Biggs - '48-'49

CROSS SECTION

The sun comes up and the sun goes down,
And Gay Orr sleeps the whole year round,
While off in the corner with the pipes
    banging loud,
"Senator" Warren is addressing a crowd.

Up on the platform the tribes all gather,
Listening to the declaration of "Apache"
    Sather,
For was, 'gainst "McCusker" Duffus,
    who looks,
And then fortifies the desk with Mess
    Ewart's books.

"Columbus" Thomas, who is sailing for doom,
Charts Miss Bell as she encircles the room;
While "Convict" Floren who has twenty-four weeks,
Is trying his darndest to look mild and meek.

Jack is looking for Albert his frog,
Which, he claims, he left under a log;
And where have his travels suddenly led?
Why No-where else but to "Gus" Fogel's head.

The stories of grief, the tales of woes,
Then "laughing Boy" Hesby yells
    "Thar she Blows"
A buzz bomb whizzes past Mr. Rempel's nose,
And the room now has access to wintry snows.

Like a bolt from the blue comes whizzing
    an arrow,
And, hot on it's trail is "Janitor" Barrow.
Who's pinioned to the wall with a five foot skewer,
While following the cry of "Wild Goose"
    Latour.

While the cat is away, the mice must play,
And Mr. Prafke's arguing with "Genius"
    Biggs today;
So while his back is so kindly diverted,
"Archimedes" Flegel's getting his lighter converted.

Now armed with a blow torch, Flegel
    proceeds and commences
To boil Mr. P's H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> - what offenses!
The fire works are grand - though the dish takes a beating,
Now the room has the addition of "Central"
    heating.

Now around the fire chieftains all gather,
Led by "Eagle-eye" Ewart and "Apache"
    Sather;
There's "Goggle-eyes" Gray and "Flat-
    Headed" Floren
"Mohawk" McKee and "Senator" Warren.

Around they encircle what's left of the desk,
Which, you can imagine is a terrible mess;

Then suddenly they stop and all steal away,
For in walks Mr. Hunter and play ceased for the day.

The sun's been up and is now going down,
Gay is still sleeping the clock right around,
Gone are smiles and sorrows, the good times and trouble
Gay slumbers alone midst the Twelve "A"
    Rubble.

A 12A Songstress of '49-'50.

IT AIN'T CRICKET!

There are Two guys and only Two
I'd like to feed some arsenic to.
The first is one I'd like to slam -
He copies off me in exams!
The second is a dirty skunk -
I copy his - and then I flunk!!

Jean Arnett - 49-50

GOD'S PLANS

Man is a thing of no import,
His life is as a summer day
One hour -
One moment -
And life has breathed a breath
And passed away.

If I should die before my task is done
Could I say that I have helped along
One man -
One wanderer -
Like myself and cheered his path
His weary way along?

For God has but a single plan,
A plan to fill the universe
With love -
With peace -
And Blazing summer skies, and life,
And things of worth.

Jean Arnett - 49-50.

AUTUMN MOOD

Like fishing, forward puppies
The leaves delight in play
A-tugging at their leashes
The first drear autumn day.
Nothing can contain them ....
They're anxious to be off,
Tho' sedate and prudish spruces
Wave airy arms and scoff.

I'd be a leafy coquette
In costume gay attired,
To live my own allotted span
And dance away desired;
To live, to love, to laugh,
Then with the fall of snow,
Astride the whirling charger
Of the autumn gale I'd go.

Lillian Biggs - 49-50.

Memorable Events

Lucy O. Morgan -

I remember winning in a three-legged race one field day. My partner was Sadie MacGillivray, We stumbled and fell when half-way to the goal, and I would have given up - if Sadie hadn't kept us going. I remember this as being typical of Sadie.

Roy Borrowman -

I do not recall any outstanding memorable incidents but some things do hang on in my mind. I remember the visit of Bliss Carman the poet. I remember my first French teacher, Mrs. McNaughten, because she spoke French with a decided Scotch accent. I remember Mr. Williams, then principal, and the car he drove, for two reasons - it was the only car at the collegiate, and it was bright yellow.

Ruby Breckenridge -

We were able to purchase new "sports" outfits - black trunks, instead of gym bloomers - "Red Letter Day."

Mrs. Barnay Johnsrude (Violet Marie Surring) -

The usual commotion prevailed between class periods. I reached over and yanked the braids of the girl who sat across the aisle. She let out a scream that reverberated far out into the hall.

Out of nowhere, and as stealthily as an animal stalking its prey, the principal entered the room, demanding to know who had let out such an ungodly scream. There was a complete silence, but under pressure, the girl admitted she was the one. Then came the direct agonizing question, "Who made you scream?"

A deadly silence followed. Then in a cold, calculating voice, I heard these words.

"Whoever is responsible is a LIAR and a CHEAT." This was too much - the arrow had found its mark... I burst into tears and said I was the guilty one. "Come into my office after school," he commanded. I felt as if the day of doom had arrived. But in the office what more was there to say, or do? The confession of guilt had been made, the crime had been solved, the punishment meted out, so the case was dismissed.

ACTIVITIES

'63

This year the Drama Group has been under the staff leadership of Mr. Williams, Mr. Bellamy, Mr. Bailey, and Miss Lewis. Early in the fall semester, improvisation classes were held and also the occasional make-up class. These helped the students and also filled in time while waiting for the play books to arrive.

Then on Friday, November 23, a Drama Night was held in W. C. I. Three one-act plays were presented, including "My Last Duchess", put on by the W. C. I. students. This night was put on in co-operation with other drama groups of the city. Miss Lewis was director of the play while Verna Beischel was assistant director. Jim Coulter, Maureen Morris, Eddie Magas, Kelly Crane, and Herb Conrad made up the cast. Eddie Magas was on lights.

An attempt was made to produce a three-act play under the direction of Mr. Williams. The production of "Flight Into Danger" included a large number of students - Donna Byggdin, Irma McDonald, Judy Kaip, Margaret Badham, Maureen Simpson, Caroline Legin, Paul Sebok, Diane Lix, Karen McDonald, Delly Crane, Verna Beischel, Tim McWhirter, Bob Hall, Dennis Moore, Eddie Magas, and Richard Wanner. The play was dropped in January because of a lack of co-operation on the part of a few. It was not felt, however, that the months spent in preparation had been wasted. A great deal had been learned in respect to acting technique and to assuming responsibility.

Finally, on Friday, March 22, the Weyburn Collegiate presented a Variety Night.

Director -

Prof. John Harshell

"Merchant of Venice" 1913-1914

FRONT ROW, Left to Right: Ralph Cleeland, Earl Stuart, Tom Darby, Clinton Brown, King Snelgrove. CENTRE ROW: Art Jarrett, Annie Brown, Gladys Snelgrove, Clarissa Clairmont, Everett Grey. BACK ROW: Alfred Clairmont, Tom Metheral, Gordon Snelgrove, Gordon Wheeler, Dick Brown, Jack Mathers, Mickey (Arthur) McBride, Gordon Marshall.

The evening began with the enthusiastic presentation of "The Legend of Camille". The cast - Donna Byggdin, Kelly Crane, Karen McDonald, and Judy Kaip were under the direction of Mr. Williams.

Piano solos by Mary Chalmers, Donna Byggdin, and Maureen Whitehead, followed.

Singing arrangements by the Harmonettes under the direction of Mrs. Whitehead were next on the program, followed by a number of solos by Mr. Williams, accompanied by Mary Chalmers, and a group of selections by Caroline Legin, Mary Chalmers, Judy Kaip, Irma McDonald, and Donna Byggdin, plus Mr. Williams.

Ian Miller and Lorrie McNaughten then showed their skill on the trampoline.

A nonsensical presentation of "If Girls Asked Boys For Dates" ended the evening. Verna Beischel, in addition to taking part as an actress, directed the cast - Richard Wanner, Maureen Simpson, Caroline Legin, and Jim Coulter.

The casts of both plays doubled as stage crew. Mr. Bellamy did a large part of this. Eddie Magas was in charge of lighting.

The night was considered a success, although this was offset somewhat by a smaller than desired audience. The evening was the grand finale of the year's work - enjoyed by audience and participants alike.

MUSICAL ACTIVITIES

Visiting Williston Glee Club

This year the Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Whitehead consists of approximately 120 voices. Although Glee Club is not compulsory this year as it has been in the past, great interest has been shown.

The Glee Club has sung at school events, such as Commencement in October, and the Awards' Night in May. They also participated in the annual Carol Festival.

A boys' chorus was started again but was dropped soon after Christmas due to a lack of interest. They did, however, perform at the Carol Festival.

This group consists of 10 girls who made their debut at the Weyburn Music Festival in March. There, they shared top honors and a twenty-five dollar scholarship with the United Church Junior Choir.

This group also appeared at the Variety Night, the Agricultural Society Banquet, and for the Rotary Club. On June 7, they presented their own concert in the Collegiate auditorium.

Oratory

Each year there are students who make up speeches for the Bryant Oratorical competitions and this year was no exception, Terry O'Crane, Percine Maltby, and Ed Magas all made their contribution.

On the day of the eliminations the whole student body went into the Gym. After the singing of O'Canada, the speeches began.

Eleanor Dudar, our senior pin presided over the proceedings, and introduced Terry O'Crane as the first speaker of the afternoon.

Terry had chosen to speak on the United Nations and also some of the work done in our present times. Terry explained the different departments of this World Organization and gave a few of the duties of each department.

The next speaker of the afternoon was Miss Percine Maltby with her topic "Ghosts". For fourteen minutes Percine held the audience spell-bound with the idea of the supernatural. Percine explained some of the ancient beliefs of pagan religions and also explained how people of the past believed in these spirits and how they had used vile means to conquer them.

The last speaker of the afternoon was Eddy Magas who had chosen to speak on a topic which is much in the news today "Cuba". Eddy gave the history of this small island from its early beginnings to its present day status in the world.

When Eddy's speech was over the judges retired to determine the winner. When they returned they had decided that Eddy Magas was the one to go on to the finals.

I might add that the speeches were all very good. They were all well delivered and prepared. To the other contestants goes our wish that they will compete in next years contest.

We would like to extend our congratulation to Eddy.

Awards Night

A unique part of graduation this year was a special Awards' Night combining Commencement and Graduation Exercises. This new innovation was held on Friday, May 24.

The centre of attention was focused upon the gayly decorated stage. A table was set up in one corner, bearing trophies, awards, and plaques, and balanced on the other side by a Grand piano. Various brightly coloured trees, were set up on the stage while huge gold letters reading "Fiftieth Year Awards' Night" were hung on the curtain of the back. Another striking feature was the stairway down the front of the stage enabling the award winners to receive their award and walk off the stage in a conspicuous manner. The guests present were treated with various musical selections supplied by Mr. Willians, the chairman, and Maureen Whitehead, Linda Gueldner, Donna Byggdin, and the Girls' Glee Club directed by Mrs. Whitehead.

The 50th Year Graduation banquet and exercises were held on Friday, May 17, 1963, in the Weyburn Collegiate Auditorium. Prior to the exercises, a banquet was enjoyed by fifty-nine graduates, teachers, and guests. Eleanor Dudar, as toast mistress for the evening, proposed a toast to the Queen. This was followed by a toast to Canada by Barbara Williams. Brenda Hurst proposed a toast to the Weyburn Schools, which was responded to by Mr. R. B. Shupe. A toast to the girls was made by Ed Ralph, and responded to by Jean MacKinnon. Carole Grohn's toast to the boys was responded to by Gerry Benson.

The toast to the graduating class was given by Mr. D. A. Scott, vice-principal of the Weyburn Collegiate, who gave a talk - both encouraging and inspiring - to the graduates. Derrell Rodine delivered the valedictorian address on behalf of his class. The "Last Will and Testament" was given by Graham Johnson, adding a touch of humour to the evening.

At the close of the exercises, the graduates were introduced to those parents and guests present. A dance, held in the beautifully decorated auditorium, followed. The guests and orchestra then adjourned to Club 13, where a supervised all night party was held. Thus ended a most memorable evening - one, I'm sure, the graduates of '63 will long remember.

FOOTBALL

The Weyburn Collegiate Eagles, under the excellent guidance of Mr. D. Kot, once again enjoyed the sweet taste of victory after three unsuccessful seasons. Although there was no eight-man league in operation, several exhibition games were played in addition to the Provincial High School Playdowns which consisted of a two-game total point series with Assiniboia. The club was small and inexperienced, but made up for these handicaps with desire and determination. Throughout the season the Eagles displayed a fine entertaining brand of football.

The season opened on October 3 with a road trip to Lebret. Both teams were fairly evenly matched but the WCI squad proved to be too tough as they rolled to a 22-7 victory.

The first home game was played on October 6 with Assiniboia drubbing the Eagles 46-8. Play was extremely close until the second half when the Eagles tired badly and could not contain the Assiniboia squad. This was the first game in the provincial playdowns.

The second game of the series was played in Assiniboia and was a repeat of the first contest as Assiniboia won going away by scoring 3 touchdowns in the last half.

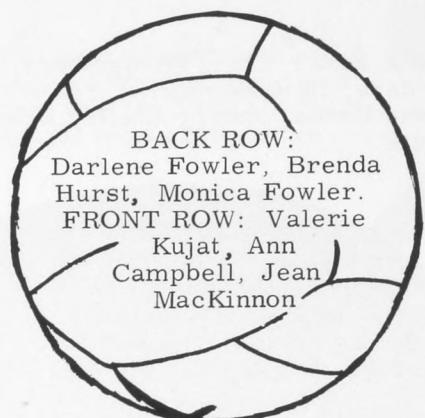

The most exciting game of the season was played at home against Notre Dame, traditional rivals of the Eagles. A good turnout of ardent Eagle supporters were on hand to take in the contest. In the Second half, trailing by two touchdowns, the Eagles took to the air in a desperate attempt to overtake their foes. The pass attack proved successful and when the dust cleared the Eagles emerged victorious, upsetting the Notre Dame team 15-14.

In the return game, and what proved to be the final game of the season, Notre Dame avenged their previous loss by grinding out a 38-14 victory.

The Eagles finished the season with two wins and three losses - an improvement over the three previous seasons. Many of this year's regulars will be back again in the fall year and with the valuable experience gained this past season, the Eagles are anticipating even better things in '63.

Volleyball

The girls' volleyball team this year consisted of Darlene Fowler, Brenda Hurst, Monica Fowler, Valerie Kujat, Ann Campbell, and Jean MacKinnon. Coach, Miss Freeze. They took part in a tournament at W.C.C. on September 15 against W.C.C. and Estevan Collegiate. W.C.I. won the trophy. An invitational tournament was held at W.C.I. on October 27. Moose Jaw Tech., Fillmore, Alameda, Carnduff, Riverview, and W.C.I. took part. Alameda, came out the winner, while the Eaglettes were runners-up.

The students who participated enjoyed a thoroughly good season.

Coach - Mr. Archibald

Boys' Volleyball

Again this year, volleyball was one of the big fall attractions. The boys' team was again coached by Mr. Archibald.

On September 15, an invitational tournament was held out at Western Christian College. Girls' and boys' teams from W.C.C., Estevan Collegiate, and W.C.I. took part in the tournament. The W.C.I. boys lost only one game during the competition and emerged as tournament champions.

The W.C.I. Invitational Volleyball Tournament was held on October 27 in the W.C.I. gym. The teams participating were W.C.I., Moose Jaw Tech., W.C.C., Riverview, Gravelbourg, Carnduff, and Fillmore. W.C.I.'s first game was against Carnduff. Our boys were defeated in the hard-fought battle and Carnduff went on to win the tournament. This loss put W.C.I. in the consolation which we won with two inspiring victories - first over Fillmore, and then over Estevan.

Next, the boys went to Moose Jaw where they competed in another tournament at Moose Jaw Central Collegiate. Here the boys went down to two bitter defeats. Carnduff beat them in their first game and then Assiniboia knocked them out of the tournament in their second game.

This year's team was composed mainly of grade nine and ten students with only one senior, Ed Ralph, on the club. With a year of experience behind them, they should be even more successful in '63.

Girls' Basketball

Mr. McCarron

During the 1962-63 basketball season W.C.I. competed in four tournaments. For the first one, we travelled to Swift Current on December 7. Our first game was against Biggar, in which we came out victorious. We next met the Swift Current Kenetics, the winner of the last two tournaments. We fought hard against this fast moving club, but were defeated.

The second tournament was our own Girls' Invitational Tournament. Our first opponent was the Virden Team which whitewashed us by a score of 31-8. In our second game, the Estevan Deuces edged us 23-18. Moose Jaw Sion came up with a 38-15 win to take home the honours of the tournament. Lebret defeated Estevan 22-19 to win the consolation event.

Next, we went to Western Christian College for our most successful tournament of the season. By defeating Fillmore in the first game we were in the finals. That night we met W.C.C. in a game which decided who could take the tournament. We defeated W.C.C. Congratulations to our captain, Brenda Hurst, who was awarded the most valuable player trophy for the girls.

In the annual McLeod Series, the Estevan Deuces won the first game by only five points. The second game proved to be the most exciting. We won by a score of 22-17. This brought about a tie to see who would go to the Provincial Playdowns. After several minutes of arguing, it was decided that another game would be held in our gym to determine the candidate.

After eliminating the Estevan Deuces, we earned the privilege of representing the South East District at the provincial tournament held at Yorkton. We left on Friday, March 1, in very good spirits. Saturday morning we met the Yorkton Gems in what turned out to be a disappointing game. The final score was rather lopsided in favor of Yorkton.

We met Yorkton Sacred Heart next, and at the end of regulation time the score was tied 19-19. We played a 3 minute overtime period. Yorkton got the first basket and never looked back. The final score was 27-19. Moose Jaw defeated Yorkton by a slim margin to cop the laurels of the tournament.

In our league games we defeated Radville, Fillmore, and Western Christian College. We lost one game to Estevan by a 20-19 score. Thus Estevan took top honours in our league.

In the Alumni game held in January 4, the Eaglettes came up with a triumphant win over the past Eaglette team.

Although the season did not have the results that we had hoped, we particularly enjoyed working under our coach, Mr. McCarron. We would like to extend a vote of appreciation for the extra time he spent on us, and the interest he gave us.

The Eagles were hard-hit this year through the graduation of a number of last year's regulars and only two veterans returned, thus presenting Coach Kot with a tough rebuilding problem. The team turned out to be smaller and younger than teams of previous years but still put on a spirited, determined show.

The season got underway on November 30 when the Eagles travelled to Fillmore. They lost in their bid to open the season with a victory by dropping a close 25-24 decision to the Fillmore squad.

The following evening the Eagles met W. C. C. and were again defeated, this time by a three or four point margin.

On December 8, the Eagles travelled to Swift Current for their invitational Tournament. In the opening round, W. C. I. met a team from Malta, Montana. The southerners completely outclassed W. C. I. and walked off with the victory. The eagles then faced Biggar in the consolation event. At half-time the score was tied, but in the second half Biggar outscored the Eagles by a five or six point margin and thus eliminated them from the tournament. As Christmas examinations were close at hand, this proved to be the last game until after the holidays.

On January 9, the Eagles met Radville for a regularly scheduled game in preparation for the big invitational tournament on January 11. The W. C. I. boys played sound basketball and beat the Radville club by a score of 33-26.

The W. C. I. Invitational Basketball Tournament was held in the W. C. I. gym on January 11 and 12 with nine teams competing. The Eagles met the Swift Current Collegiate Barons in their first game of the tournament. The Barons were too tough to handle and the Eagles went down to defeat 33-17 and dropped down into the consolation event. On Saturday, the Eagles met Riverview, beaten earlier by Gravelbourg, 52-34. In this game, Riverview proved themselves the superior team as they trounced us by a score of 65-26. This eliminated the W. C. I. contingent for the tournament.

Moose Jaw Central went on to eventually win the tournament by edging Gravelbourg 43-38. In the consolation event, the Riverview Royals met the Estevan Royals. The game was hard fought all the way but Estevan came out on top. Final score - 42-38. Both the championship and Consolation finals were extremely close and proved highly attractive from the spectators point of view.

On January 19, the Eagles played the W. C. C. team and eked out a narrow 34-31 victory.

On February 7, the Estevan Collegiate Royals journeyed to Weyburn to play a regularly scheduled game against our Eagles. This proved to be the Eagles' night as they jumped into an early lead and held it all the way, overwhelming the Royals. High scorer for the Eagles was Allan Mulhall with eleven points.

The McLeod Series, the annual basketball competition between Weyburn and Estevan Collegiate, opened at Estevan on February 20. The W.C.I. boys were after their first McLeod Series victory since 1958. A thirteen car motorcade of Eagle rooters travelled to Estevan to cheer them on in their quest. However, Estevan proved too tough as they put up a spirited fight in defense of the cup and sent the Eagles down to defeat 42-33. Being down only nine points in the total point series, the Eagles were still confident that they could come out on top in the second game. This game was played in the W.C.I. gym on February 22. The contest was rugged and tempers flared at times, but the Eagles put on a thrilling last quarter surge to defeat the E.C.I. boys 38-34. This however, was not enough and Estevan retained the cup for another year.

JUNIOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

W.C.I. fielded a junior basketball team again this year. They did not play a regular scheduled game until February 13, when they edged the St. Michael's team by a score of 18-17.

W.C.I. basketball concluded for the season on March 9, when the junior team participated in a tournament at Frillmore. The boys lost two narrow decisions and were eliminated from the competition.

TABLE TENNIS

This year the school purchased four table tennis tables for the use of the students. In order to arrange a satisfactory schedule, names were collected and a draw made up for a week at a time. Unfortunately many of the teams failed to show up and, therefore, their games were won by default.

The winners of the event were Dwight Carruthers and Dwight McMillen. They admitted that their final game against Sandra Miller and Karon Anderson was a pretty tough one to win.

I think that most students will agree, that we were fortunate to have this added sport this year, and we hope that it will gain in popularity next year.

BADMINTON

This year's badminton club started in February under the capable direction of Mr. Kapusianyk. There were about thirty members. Two tournaments were held; first, a warm up tournament, and second, the twenty-five cent tournament. The winners of the second tournament were Ian Miller and Gordie Hulbert. A consolation tourney was held with Jim Lawrences and Abe Winters victorious. During badminton season two clinics were held to pick those to go to Estevan. Those picked included Gordie Hulbert, Ian Miller, Sherry Abells, and Stan Falconer. At Estevan, Sherry Abells, and Gordie Hulbert won the doubles while Sherry Abells won the singles.

W. C. I. LEAGUE CURLING

Again this year, a mixed curling league under the able guidance of Mr. Zandee, was operated throughout the winter. One group of teams played on Thursdays and the other on Fridays. The team with the best win-loss record in each group played off for the Laing's Trophy. This year, rinks skipped by Willie Kradovill and Doug Venn each had five wins and three losses. In the championship draw, Kradovill downed Venn to capture the trophy. The third of the Kradovill rink was Lucille Aitken while Wayne Nelson played both second and lead. The third of Doug Venn's rink was Joyce Osborn, second - Jim Clark. Bill Morris tossed the lead rocks.

W. C. I. BONSPIEL

After three months or so of league curling, the season was brought to a successful close early in March with the staging of W. C. I.'s annual bonspiel, in which sixteen rinks participated. The bonspiel proved to be a huge success and a great deal of fun was had by all - the old "veterans" as well as the "novices."

The results were as follows:

Weyburn Motors Championship Event -

- 1) Doug McRae, skip; Cliff Martin, third; Barb Williams, second; Eddie Magas, lead.
- 2) Willie Kradovill, skip; Lucille Aitken, third; Robert Gordon, second; Linda Ghan, lead.
- 3) Jill Renus, skip; Judy Worden, third; Dave Gregorash, second; Jane Mackay, lead.

Legion Event -

- 1) Ed Ralph, skip; Pat Murray, third; Bill Ferguson, second; Brian Leach, lead.
- 2) Tony Mackay, skip; Brian Benning, third; Dale Hemphill, second; Janice Dalgliesh, lead.
- 3) Gordon Boyko, skip; David Hemphill, third; Larry Oxelgren, second; Ron Herberholtz, lead.

Co-op Event -

- 1) Jerry Benson, skip; Barry Mactaggart, third; Gary Dowling, second; David Murray, lead.
- 2) Kathy Ferguson, skip; Merlin Kellington, third; Verna Beischel, second; Linda Mortin, lead.
- 3) Gregg Adolphe, skip; Carol Busch, third; Judy Kaip, second; Barry Johnson, lead.

After a number of tryout sessions, the boys' curling team was assembled. Skipping this year's rink was Willie Kradovill, third; Martin Christenson, second; Doug McRae, third; and Barry Falconer, lead.

This year's Southeast District Playdowns were held in Weyburn and in Estevan. The W. C. I. boys played two games in Weyburn, first losing to Talmage, representing the Weyburn Unit, and then defeating Ceylon, representing the Radville Unit. Next the boys journeyed to Estevan for the completion of the playdowns. In their first game they defeated the Oxbow Unit, and then, in an extra-end thriller, they edged the Estevan Collegiate contingent to win the Southeast District Championship and the right to go to Regina for the Southern Playdowns.

After capturing the Southeast District championship, the boys went to Regina on February 16 for the South Saskatchewan High School Playdowns - the winner to represent the south against the north in the provincial championship. The competition proved to be extremely tough as the boys bowed to Luther College, Yorkton Collegiate, and Moose Jaw Riverview. They did, however, come through with victories over Craven and Abernathy. Although they did not bring home the championship the boys did make a very respectable showing.

Thus, the W. C. I. four managed to compile a respectable record of five wins and four losses in this year's competition.

Boys' Curling

Barry Falconer, Doug McRae, Martin Christenson, Willie Kradovill.

Girls' Curling

Judy Wordon, Kathy Ferguson, Faye Hanna, Jill Renas

The girls' curling team, consisting of Jill Renas, skip; Faye Hanna, third; Kathy Ferguson, second; and Judy Worden, lead; started in the provincial playdowns against Creelman. We were victorious in winning the first two games out of a possible three. This gave us the privilege of representing our district in the South-East playdowns at Estevan.

There were four teams counting ours down at Estevan. In the first games Gainsborough played Lampman and we came up against Oungre. We then played the Lampman rink and after a close game once again came out the winners. This made us the South-East District champions with the privilege of representing the S.E. in the Southern Saskatchewan playdowns at Indian Head.

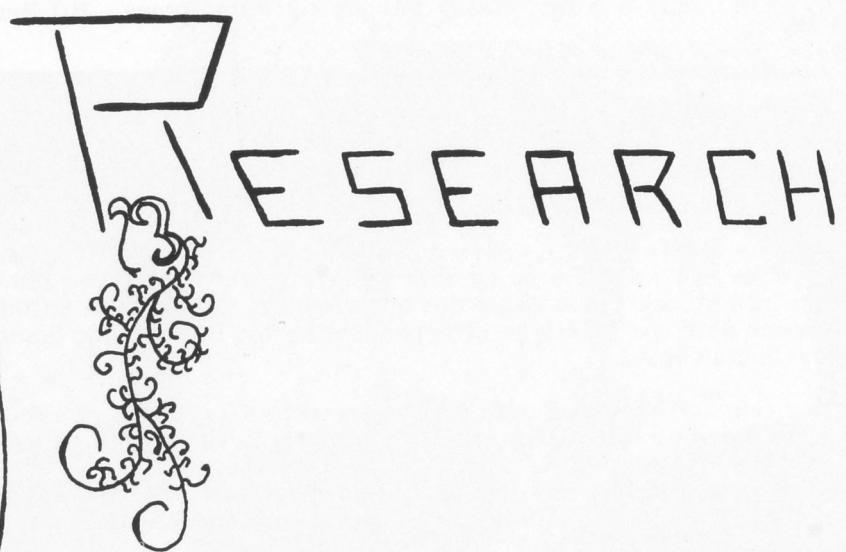

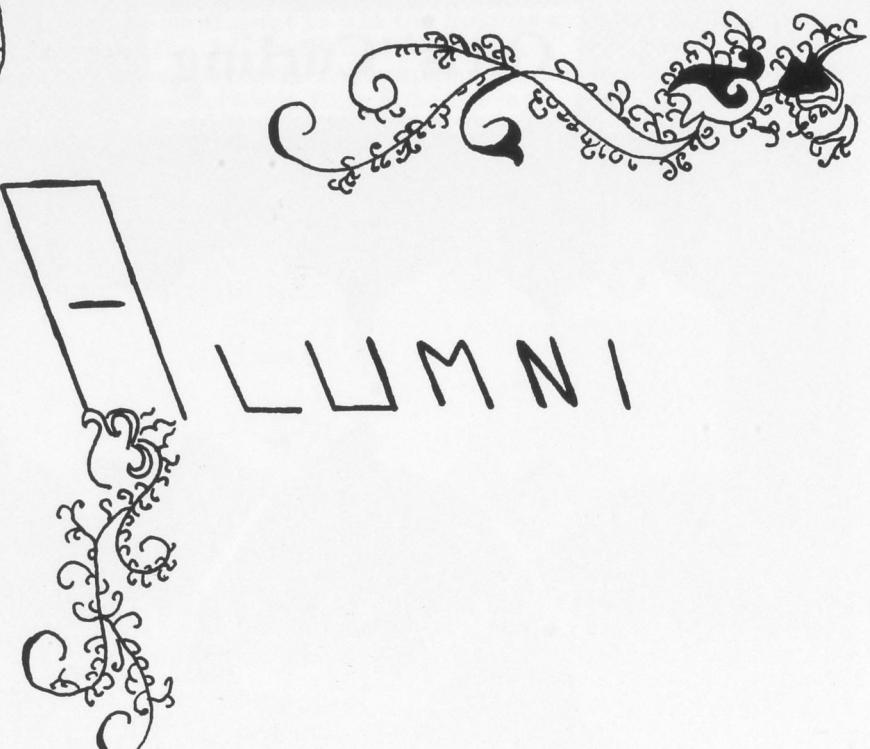

Although our trip and stay at Indian Head were heartily enjoyed, we didn't come out the Southern champions as we had hoped. We lost our first two games against Yorkton and Moose Jaw. We then settled down and won our next three games. We ended up with a 3-2 win which left us tied for second place. The teams we defeated were Wolseley, Regina Central, and Swift Current. Moose Jaw Central won the southern and went on to win the provincial cup at Melfort. The hospitality, which included a banquet, was wonderful, and made our stay even more enjoyable.

Our thanks go out to our coach, Mr. Harcourt, for all the help rendered us during the curling season, and also to the school for supplying us with new sweaters for the trip to Indian Head. We would also like to thank anyone who came out to watch us and cheer us on.

The school team also played in the city championships and came out the winners. We had to play against St. Michaels and Western Christian College. We received individual trophies as a prize and also had our names put on a big trophy which is kept in the school.

It was, on the whole, a very good season, and we enjoyed ourselves very much.

A letter from Mrs. Wilma E. Amos speaking of former students says:

"I suppose that if all the kinds of work and all the places we've all been were all added up, they would represent all vocations and all the countries in the world, for there must be a very great number of us. And what a lot of great events have taken place since 1913, when the Collegiate was opened. Some of the older ex-students saw and took part in two wars, many of us have become parents, some grandparents, some have acquired fame and fortune, some have learned the peace and contentment of a quiet home and family life, including the great joy of seeing a line full of clean clothes blowing on the line, or seeing the family coming home from school and work.

I sincerely hope that most of us have acquired wisdom to mix with the knowledge we got at school, wisdom which can only come from coping with the vicissitudes of life in its various forms. It is likely that we have all had a share of joy and sorrow, tragedy and triumph, disaster and victory. I know that if all the other students and ex-students got as much out of their days at W.C.I. as I did, their lives have been more adaptable to whatever upheaval might have come their way."

Weyburn Cadet Band (1942)

In Oct. 1952 at the Commencement exercises Mrs. Sadie McGillivray Bowerman presented to Mrs. J.E. McGillivray, Chairman of the Collegiate board, two silver tea services with two trays and an extra coffee pot on behalf of the Alumni starting 1913. A dollar and a half was collected from each family interested, or fifty cents per student. Those acting on this committee in gathering the money and names were Alice McGowan Onstad, Bessie Bullis Butters, Myrtle Scott Blow and Isabel Murray, along with Mrs. Bowerman. This silver service has proven very useful at numerous functions and necessitates less borrowing on many occasions.

A thought from a former student:

Mrs. Laura Jessie (Gibbs) Buffam of Moose Jaw writes: "In the early pioneer days of the West, education was not the most important part of a family's life, especially once the child reached the age of being helpful. Laura Jessie Gibbs, my mother, wanted to go to school and some day teach school. It seemed she was doomed to be a hired hand, since her only brother had a crippled leg and was handicapped as far as being any help on the farm was concerned.

For many seasons Laura rode horseback, cooked for threshers, herded cows, rode the plough and each time she saw her mother at mealtime or at bedtime her constant plea was to go to school. To avoid violence from the father (for his attitude towards education was nil) Laura and her mother went to bed as usual but later sneaked out and hitched the horse and loaded the buggy with baggage and drove eleven miles to Weyburn so she could stay with her grandparents to go to school.

The mother returned before dawn and continued the day's routine saying nothing until the sunset of the day. She faced the issue and told the father how she had taken Laura away in the night. He was furious.

About a week later he cooled off and came in to dinner and said to his wife, "If Laura thinks she needs education, how much more does my son who is handicapped for manual labor. You freshen up his shirts and take him to school tomorrow."

The six Gibbs' children of McTaggart all attended high school as a result of this incident.

Brian Gibbs, son of Roy Gibbs who farms the original homestead at McTaggart, graduates this year from the collegiate.

YOUNG FELLOWS CLUB

Would like to congratulate the graduating class of '63 and wish them every success for the future.

The Young Fellows' Club has served the people of Weyburn since May 18, 1922 and in living up to their motto of "We Serve" has spent an average of Five Dollars daily in Weyburn since then. All the money has been raised by Club activities to which all the Young Fellows through the years have freely given their time and support. These activities have ranged from raffles to sport days and from dances to radio auctions.
